Graduate Research Conference

The Graduate Research Conference was held on Wednesday, March 23, 2016 at the SMC Campus Center. PTRS was well represented with the following presentations:

Mario Inacio, PhD Student: "Older Adults who Primarily Use a Medial Protective Stepping Strategy Exhibit Increased Intramuscular Adipose Tissue and decreased torque of the Hip Abductor Muscles"

Brian Johnson, PhD Student: "Targeted memory reactivation during sleep, but not wake, improves sensorimotor skill learning in healthy young adults"

Chieh-ling Yang, PhD Student: "The effects of reactive and voluntary step training on balance recovery during lateral perturbation in individuals with chronic stroke."

Wan-Wen Liao, PhD Student: "Different levels of intracortical inhibition are involved in bimanual common-vs. dual-goal tasks and related to interlimb interaction"

The Graduate Research Conference (GRC) is hosted annually by the Graduate Student Association of the University of Maryland, Baltimore, and provides students and postdoctoral fellows with the opportunity to present their research to the campus community. The GRC creates a unique and dynamic setting that facilitates the efficient exchange of information and ideas across a wide variety of scientific disciplines via oral or poster presentations.

Residency Acceptance

Andrew Hammond, SPT ('16) has accepted an offer for one of three seats in the Johns Hopkins Hospital and George Washington University Orthopaedic Physical Therapy Residency Program. This is the second consecutive year a student from PTRS has been accepted into this young, but highly-competitive 13-month residency program. Andrew follows in the footsteps of Chelsea David, DPT ('15).

Congratulations, Andrew!

Graduates of accredited physical therapy residency programs have close to a 100% first-time pass rate on ABPTS board certification examinations.

Rehabilitation Science Research Seminar

PTRS Ph.D. Student, Chieh-ling Yang, will be presenting this week's seminar entitled:

"Cortical enhancement of posture, movement planning, and execution during standing voluntary reach following stroke"

Please plan to join us on Friday, April 1st from 9:00am - 10:00am in Room 511 of the Allied Health Building at 100 Penn Street.

PTRS Fund Raiser

URecFit will be hosting its 31st Annual Golf Tournament on

Continuing Education Opportunities

IT TAKES A VILLAGE: MENTORSHIP FOR THE CLINICAL EDUCATOR

MAC Spring Workshop

April 8, 2016

Registration 1:30-2:00PM

Workshop 2-6PM

Where: Allied Health Building: 100 Penn Street, Baltimore, MD 21201

Course Description:

In 2014, with the support of APTA, the Education Section, and FSBPT, the American Council of Academic Physical Therapy held a Clinical Education Summit where stakeholders shaped a shared vision of a "common culture of teaching and learning based in strong partnerships with shared responsibility..." This innovative program is designed to foster collaborative networks that will provide educational mentorship opportunities for novice and experienced clinical educators. Participants will receive an overview of best practices in mentorship in clinical and educational arenas, discuss various strategies for the provision and receipt of feedback among all clinical education stakeholders, and explore the paralleled opportunities for mentorship for the clinical educator. The program will be offered in a multi-modal format including presentations, interactive simulations, and opportunities for informal networking.
